It gives us immense pleasure in inviting you to participate in two days International Conference on Sustainable Materials for Modern Life on March 12 & 13, 2024 going to be organized by Dept. of Chemistry, Siddharth University, Kapilvastu-272202. This International conference aims to provide a global platform to academicians, researchers, scientists, doctors & engineers coming from academia and industry for purposeful multidisciplinary subject's discussion, meaningful interaction and innovative ideas exchange from distinguished scientists technologists keynote speakers.

Main Thrust Areas

- Advanced materials for biological and medical applications,
- Green materials, Recent Developments in Agro-waste, sustainable agriculture.
- Biomaterials and biosensors, Bio-electronic, Biophotonic.
- Click chemistry, Synthetic organic & inorganic materials.
- Materials for environmental and sustainable development. Environmental toxicology.
- Current developments and innovations in the fields of therapeutics Chemistry and Drug Design.
- Materials for Electronic and Energy Storage Devices applications.
- Nanoscience, Nano technology, Nano fluids, Nano materials for various applications.
- Cutting edge materials in the fields of science, medical, clinical, technology, engineering, life sciences.
- Advances in biotechnology, concept of nutraceuticals.
- Computational fluid dynamics, magneto-hydrodynamics, signal processing, Solitons, Shock waves.

Faculty of Science Siddharth University, Kapilvastu, Siddharthnagar

Steeped in history and washed by the gurgling rivers flowing down the Himalayas, Siddharthnagar is the place, well known worldwide as the 'playground' of Prince Siddhartha- later known as Lord Buddha. With an objective of furthering the sense of enlightenment, in a blend of traditionalism and modern education laid the foundation stone of the University on October 30, 2013. The Faculty of Science was established in 2021 by our visionary and Honourable Vice-Chancellor Prof. H.B. Srivastava. The Faculty of Science represents a research-oriented faculty. The seven Departments work with the objective of imparting up-to-date knowledge in modern science, with an inter-disciplinary, vocational, and social element.

How to reach:

Siddharth University is 20 km away from Siddharth nagar railway station and bus stand. The nearest airport is Gorakhpur and taxi is available on the reserve and sharing basis.
